John. Reid, of the issue of July 21st the Big Sandy, has charge News had something to say with Mrs. W. L. about the poor equipment used on the line.

We are just in receipt of the following letter from an official, which is the first announcement that has been made of the welcome order:

Richmond, Va., Aug. 8, 1911.

My dear Mr. Conley:

Referring to the article in your paper of July 21st, headed "WHY NOT?" in which you speak of the passenger coaches of the Big Sandy District being replaced with comfortable vestibule coaches and in which you ask why if these coaches can be spared to you a few days, what reason there is for not permanent use on that division.

I have taken the matter up with the officials here and with the result that Mr. W. Grice, the General Manager, has assigned the best non-vestibule passenger equipment that we have to the Big Sandy district. This is a better class of coaches than has been used on the line and is equal to the best used on branch lines. These coaches are, in every respect, as comfortable as the vestibule coaches.

No railroads use vestibule coaches on branch lines, because of the fact that local trains are run and the constant opening and shutting of the doors make them useless so far as any protection or benefit to the passenger is concerned. Even on our main line, where we are running local schedules, we use, whenever possible, non-vestibule cars.

If there is anything that I can do for you at any time in this connection and you will take up the matter with me direct, I will assure you of my attention and desire to do everything I can aiding you and your paper, and this desire is also shared by President Stevens and the officials of the Chesapeake and Ohio."

Mrs. Zara Johnson is quite sick, and her son J. R. and grandson, Vinson, are here from Richmond to see her.

JUDGE HANNAH BETTER.

Report That Judge Benton Will Preside Here.

It is very gratifying to the many friends of Judge J. B. Hannah to learn that there is a decided change for the better in his condition. He never left him and nothing remains as an element of danger but weakness. His mother has gone to her home, and this is strong evidence of his satisfactory condition.

Of course Judge Hannah will not preside at the term of the Lawrence Circuit Court beginning August 28th. The law makes it the duty of the Governor to designate a Circuit Judge who is unengaged with official duties to preside when the regular Judge J. M. Benton of Winchester, had been chosen, but a rumor lacks confirmation.

Change in Lock Forces.

By an order which became effective August 5th quite a change has been made in the forces at the lock in this section. Chas. Rice is made lockmaster at Chapman, with William Childers 1st lockman. J. Mat. Rowe goes to Saltwater as lockmaster, with Frank Childers 1st lockman. Zeb. Henton succeeds Charley Rice at the Louisville lock, and Robt. Howe succeeds J. Mat. Rowe as 1st lockman at this point.

All these positions are quite desirable, the work not being a drudgery and the pay sure. In addition to the salary each man is furnished free a very comfortable residence.

A Peculiar Drowning.

On last Friday afternoon John Taylor, of near Potters station, four miles north of this place was drowned under very peculiar circumstances. He was in a skiff, fishing in the river not far from his home, when he had an epileptic fit and his head, hands and shoulders fell across the side of the boat into the river, and before help could reach him he was drowned.

The unfortunate man left a widow and four children. A burial outfit was furnished by the county.

DR. H. C. OSBORN.

Lawrence County Young Man Makes Enviable Record.

From hospital interne to a place in the United States Army Medical Corps with the rank of First Lieutenant in the sudden rise of Dr. Henry C. Osborn, stationed at the Louisville City Hospital for the past year, following his graduation from the medical department of the University of Louisville with high honors. To win this honor Dr. Osborn stood the difficult examination required of applicants and in which statistics show only one in every hundred is successful. Indeed, Dr. Osborn had his misgivings when he underwent the severe test and surprised even himself when he emerged with the much-sought prize.

Dr. Osborn is twenty-eight years of age and a native of Blaine, Lawrence county, his parents being Mr. and Mrs. James L. Osborn, who still reside there. He attended school in Lawrence county, and, after graduating from Berea College, came to Louisville five years ago. He entered the medical department of the University of Louisville and graduated in 1910, winning first honors in a class of 202. As the reward for his class standing he was appointed interne at the Louisville City Hospital, and will complete his year's service on September 1. Army regulations require a year's hospital service before admission to the Medical Corps.

He took the examination, which required six days, before an army board at Fort Harrison, near Indianapolis, Ind., the week of July 10. He was notified, under date of July 27, by the Surgeon General of the United States Army of his good fortune in passing the examination and that his name would be submitted to the Adjutant General of the army for a commission in the Medical Reserve Corps. Dr. Osborn will report at Washington City on October 2 for one year's instruction in the army medical school, after which he will be given a permanent commission in the army, starting with the rank of First Lieutenant, which rank and the pay attached he will begin to enjoy as soon as his commission reaches him in a few days.

Dr. Osborn, who is of a modest and retiring disposition, is being congratulated on all sides on his good fortune. He is very popular at the City Hospital, and will leave that institution with the best wishes of all his associates.—Louisville Times, Aug. 3.

The News takes much pleasure in reproducing the above sketch of another Big Sandy boy who has made good and is now in a position to support himself and his family. The boy is a fine specimen of manhood.

Any teacher who failed to secure a copy of the Grade Course of Study at the institute, may have same by calling at my office.

The article tells its own story of reward which surely follows good conduct, industry, sobriety and diligent application to work or study. "Little Chilt" set his mark high, and he has gained an enviable, honorable position.

As a commissioned officer in the Medical Corps of the United States army it is possible for him to become the Surgeon General of the Army, and if we judge the future by the past he is just the lad to some day wear the insignia of that high position. Dr. Osborn's place is practically for life. He will next become a captain then successively a major, lieutenant colonel, colonel, brigadier general and major general. At the age of 64 he is retired on three-fourths the full pay of the rank he had attained at the time of retirement. This pay continues until his decease. Dr. Osborn has won his honors by his own pluck and ability. Favoritism and political "pull" go for nothing in a matter of this sort.

Blaine and vicinity is a hotbed, so to speak, for doctors. Since the Civil War half a hundred or more young men living within a radius of ten miles of the town of Blaine have graduated in medicine, and half of them belonged to the school district just above the Blaine district.

Noah Kelly Paroled.

Frankfort, Ky., August 2.—The Prison Commission today granted a parole to Noah Kelly, sent up from Lawrence County to serve a twenty-one-year sentence for manslaughter. Kelly was only 17 years of age when he was sent to the penitentiary and has served seven years, during which time he has been a model prisoner.

The crime for which Kelly was convicted was the deliberate killing of his cousin, a lad named Hicks. They had quarreled over some trivial matter at Kelley's home and Hicks had mounted his horse and was riding away. When he had gone at least 200 yards Kelly took deliberate aim and shot him, the ball entering his back and passing out through his breast.

CHEAPER GAS.

Contract On Record Entitles Louisa to Reduction.

As stated recently the United Fuel Gas Company has announced a reduction in the price of gas in Huntington to 20 cents net per thousand feet. Not only has it been announced, but for the benefit of any who may doubt the correctness of the report we will state that contracts have already been signed by a large number of Huntington citizens to take gas at this rate for five years.

Referring again to the contract made by the company to furnish gas to Louisa as low as other cities or towns we call the attention of officials to the records in the county court clerk's office. This agreement will be found in right of way contract made by Mr. Alexander Lackey. It states as a consideration that the citizens of Louisa and all public buildings therein shall be furnished with gas at as low a rate as any cities along the Ohio river.

We remember hearing Mr. Lackey speak of the matter with a great deal of satisfaction soon after the contract was executed. He felt that it probably would be worth much to the people of Louisa, and the correctness of his foresight seems now to be fully verified. The proposition should be laid before the officials of the gas company at once.

The News takes much pleasure in reproducing the above sketch of another Big Sandy boy who has made good and is now in a position to support himself and his family. The boy is a fine specimen of manhood.

SHOT FROM COVER.

Frank Burton, of This County, The Victim.

Cowardly Attempt Made on the Life of a Timber Man in West Virginia.

Frank Burton a prominent timber man of Lattin on the Guyan Valley 30 miles from Huntington was shot from ambush about 6 o'clock Tuesday evening as he was walking along the country road about two miles outside of Lattin and probably fatally wounded. Burton stated that he saw the man who shot him but did not know who he was. A message received by Mr. Holbrook, of the Huntington Produce and Feed Company, a relative of Burton was told of the affair and he at once made arrangements with Chief Davis and John Baker to take the bloodhounds to the scene of the tragedy and make an effort to run down the would-be murderer. Baker with the dogs, and accompanied by Holbrook left on a freight train shortly after last midnight for the scene of the shooting.—Huntington Herald-Dispatch.

Frank Burton is a native of this county and had lived in Fallsburg. He is a brother-in-law of Mr. Jay O'Daniel, of this place, having married his sister. Upon hearing the news of the wounding of Mr. Burton Mr. O'Daniel communicated with the sheriff of the county where the attempted murder had occurred and learned of his brother-in-law's condition. Thursday morning he learned that he had been taken to a Huntington hospital and was doing as well as could be expected. Twenty-one shots had been extracted from his body and he will possibly recover. The man suspected of doing the shooting has not yet been captured.

Mr. O'Daniel went to Huntington Thursday to see his brother-in-law.

LATER:—Golden Hager has been arrested for the crime and his bond fixed at $2000. There was an old grudge between the men. Burton will recover unless blood poison should set in.

PER CAPITA $4.61.

Lawrence County Teachers Get More Than First Reported.

The per capita tax for every county in the State except Pike, Taylor and Woodford has been reported to the Department of Education. The amount this county will receive is $4.61 cents for each pupil child in the county. Only two counties get more, Livingston $4.62 and Bullitt $4.63. The lowest per capita is that of Robertson, $4.22. Of the other counties in this section Elliott gets $4.41, Johnson, $4.43, Carter and Floyd $4.45, Boyd $4.47, Martin $4.51, Leitcher $4.55, Morgan $4.59 and Knott $4.60.

These differences are caused by the difference in the amount of dog tax paid into the State treasury. When a sheriff is prompt in the collection of this tax the school fund is the gainer. The amount per capita for this county shows that Sheriff Carter has been busy in enforcing the collection of the tax on dogs, and the News will say right here that he is an all around efficient officer. This short article also affords much food for those who are opposed to the present dog law.

THE BAKERY SOLD.

Clyde Hamilton has sold the Louisa Bakery to a Mr. Pfeiffer, of Wheeling, W. Va., who at once assumed the management and went on with the business. He has no knowledge of the new owner, but it is known that he is a man of means and will be able to keep the bakery in good condition.

She Was Four Years Old.

On last Friday afternoon some two score or more of the future beauties and belles of the country honored Miss Katharine Carey with their presence (spell it both ways) the occasion being the fourth anniversary of her birth. It was an ideal party, the weather, the decorations, the favors, the delicious refreshments, the happy crowd and the equally happy little hostess.

Nothing had been spared to make the event pleasing to the child and her friends, and the result was surely successful. "Oh, we just had the nice time that ever was!" This was the unanimous verdict of a jury competent to try such a case. And the crowd was too full to say much more. The tokens of remembrance received by Miss Katharine were many, some elegant, all appreciated.

Overland From Huntington.

Rolla Mossman and Max Wilcoxen, two young men of Huntington, are visiting relatives in this vicinity. They walked the entire distance from their home to Louisa, being desirous of seeing the country. Three days were consumed in making the trip. The boys are grandsons of John D. Wellman, for many years a resident of this city.

A NEW STEAMBOAT.

The Edna Riley Being Built for Louisa Richardson Trade.

Tom Vaughan and Mr. Robert Riley, both of this city, have begun the building of a freight and passenger steamboat to run between Richardson and Louisa. The boat will leave Richardson every morning and Louisa every evening. It will be a double-decker with cabin and forecastle. It will be 65 feet long and 15 feet wide, with a stern wheel and square bow. It will have two engines, and a sprocket chain will convey power to the wheel. Capt. Vaughan hopes to make the new boat's draft—maybe it's draught—not more than a foot, possibly not more than ten inches. The builders hope to have the new craft in commission before winter. Capt. Vaughan is a veteran steamboat man and knows all about boats, from stem to stern and from the keel to the top of the stacks.

The owners of the new boat feel sure that there will be enough trade between Louisa and Richardson to justify running a boat between the two points. Between the two points there are about twenty-five stores, and of this number not one-fifth are on the railroad. A boat would get the freighting for the stores not near the road. It would not take a good comfortable boat very long to get the passenger trade also. Buyers who could get aboard at any point along the river would soon get the habit, and Louisa merchants would be largely the gainers. The mills are now getting out the timber for the new boat.

A LETTER FROM MANILA, P. I.

On account of numerous first-class passengers, state rooms could not be furnished to some of the officers, they were sent to the women's quarters. Each state room has two tiers, one above the other and a settee. Ample room for two, although three persons are sometimes forced into them. The soldiers have their quarters one or two tiers below the mess deck. Three tiers of canvas bunks are all that is necessary. The lights are turned out at 9 p. m. and as the soldier prepares to lay down, an uncomfortable feeling of suffocation attacks him. First he imagines that the weather is warm when he realizes that the word torrid is inadequate to express his sentiments, and finally as the perspiration pours through the skin, he is convinced that the engineers of the ship have made a mistake and moved the furnace under his individual bunk for some devilish purpose. In a word, where so many men are sleeping together, the atmosphere is warm and not alone warm but infernally hot. Many men sleep on the upper deck, and are aroused at 4 a. m. by the deck hands who wash down the ship. During the night the guards walk their post; a few men are at the troughs washing their clothes in salt water, which water by the way leave the clothes when washed dirtier than before the attempt was made; the bakers are busy at the ovens fixing bread, cakes and pies for the morrow and the men are reading books, while in the cooks' galley, the kitchen police are busily engaged peeling "spuds," potatoes. As the ship is speeding along with its human freight, very few give thought to the captain who is responsible for the lives of those on board; to the engineers to the firemen and the coal passers. The first rays of the morning sun dawn on the horizon, reveille is sounded and the sleeping soldiers come to life. Towels and salt water soap are seized and headway is made for the lavatories. Have you ever used salt water soap? If so, then you know the difficulties one experiences in keeping clean. A few applications of the soap produces a gumy lather having a seat of coconut oil and no amount of rubbing can effect the cleansing. Therefore adage of "cleanliness being next to godliness" can only be illustrated in the abstract. After washing, mess call is sounded. A few minutes later the men undergo physical exercises.

Sick call is sounded at 7 a. m. There are four contract surgeons on the ship. Each man who desires medical attendance has his name put on the company sick book, and is examined by the doctor. Should the soldier be seriously sick he is put into a well equipped hospital; those having slight indispositions receive medicine suited to the case. Guard mount next takes place after which preparation for the daily inspection is made. The special fatigue gangs equipped with implements, not of war, consisting of brooms and shovels attacks the decks. As the chief enemies are dirt, rubbish, cigar stubs and paper, wonder is expressed why they cry, "You can't stand here, men, you've got to move," in heard. It seems that the warriors are so intent on their duties that they fail to see men occupied in various amusements. No obstruction in the path seems to trouble the sweepers; onward they go in battle array, completing their tasks, as only true soldiers know. Three times each day all the decks are cleaned, which, however, is insufficient. The upper deck is washed down at night.

Dinner call is sounded a slight variation from the last meal is observed. The afternoon is spent in card playing generally for "jaw-bone" that is, to be paid on pay day and the monotony of the trip already is in evidence.

Arrived at Honolulu on October 12th, 1907, and the town was inspected. The most interesting part of the town was visited, such as the aquarium where wonderful fishes can be seen, to the prison, the coconut groves, the pineapple warehouses, the Chinese district, the Japanese part of the town. Of course very interesting sights were seen, but these were over balanced by having to pay ten cents gold for a glass of beer. Two days were enough and many of the men were glad to leave, although Honolulu has been enthusiastically described on account of its climate and wonderful sunset.

On the 23rd of Oct., Midway Islands were seen. The Islands consist but 132 square miles of land, have a population of 2,000 people. Forty miles due to be out on the 24th. Thompson attacked once every her husband, the intent interest the mariners showed by asking after the news from the "states," the dreary aspects of the place made many hesitate to go off. Especially the soldier showed a lack of appreciation, because nearly all refused to get into small boat and take them to the shore. It was learned that the wireless telegraphy messages, but the nearest line of communication was ninety miles.

Our next stop of interest was Guam. This island was a prison island and during the Philippine insurrection, where all prominent officials fighting against the American Flag, were sent. 140 marines are stationed there and they express little liking for the place. The chief food, so they say, is canned goods, and they welcome the transports, for it gives them food which they like. One week more of the voyage and our destination arrived at Manila.

Manila's buildings could be seen from a distance and as the boat slowly crept to the dock, we could see that many friends were at hand to welcome us. At ten o'clock a. m. Nov. 3rd, 1907, the good old transport which carried us safely across the waters dropped anchor, and we had at last reached our journey's end.

The ups and downs of the Philippines, I will try and describe later. With success to the News and its readers.

DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.

Died, Aug. 2, 1911, at 1 p. m. Mr. James Poe at the age of 65 years, 6 months and 7 days after an illness of about four months.

Although he had been in poor health for sometime his death was practically unexpected. He had seemingly been on the mend for some few days and it was hoped that he would recover until about twelve hours before his death he became unconscious and lay in a stupor until a few minutes before his death when he regained consciousness and though he was unable to speak he seemed to know those who were at his bedside and made several efforts to speak to them, but it was in vain. He could not speak.

Uncle Jim, as he was called, had lived a true Christian life for the last forty years and rejoiced in the faith of a living God until the last. The Bible had always been his guide, his refuge in times of trouble and sorrow and his comfort in his last days. About the last words he ever spoke he says to his wife, "Don't you see that pretty railing?" Then he spoke a few words about its being so beautiful and said no more. By the death of this venerable old soldier the community has lost a good and useful citizen, the bereaved widow mourns the loss of a good and devoted husband, the children a kind and loving father.

When Mr. Poe was quite young he married Miss Nancy Wellman. To this union were born six children, five of whom survive him: John Poe Mrs. Lish Griffith, Webster Poe and Mrs. J. O. Miller, all of this county and Mrs. John Shoemaker, whose home is in Bixby, Okla. For his second wife he married Mrs. Nancy Berry Fannin. To this union were born three children, two of them have preceded him to the Glory Land, and one of them, a boy is still living. For his third wife he married Miss Ellen Bradley about three years ago. She remains his widow. Only two of the children were close enough to be summoned to their father's bedside at the time of his death. They were Webster and Jessie. One of his granddaughters, Miss Nora Griffith of Cherokee, was present. His remains were laid to rest in the family graveyard at the Thompson Berry place. After the funeral services had been held in the Spring Dale church house conducted by Rev. Kanso and John T. Moore.

We would say to the sorrowing widow, children and friends, weep not as those who have no hope, but follow the goodly example Uncle Jim has set before you, and you can meet father and husband where death can never enter. You can not call your loved one back, but you can meet him in that home that God has prepared for his children. "To that are faithful over a few things I will make you ruler over many things." M. E. DEATH OF AN OLD CITIZEN.

Died, Aug. 2, 1911, at 1 p. m. Mr. James Poe at the age of 65 years, 6 months and 7 days after an illness of about four months.

Although he had been in poor health for sometime his death was practically unexpected. He had seemingly been on the mend for some few days and it was hoped that he would recover until about twelve hours before his death he became unconscious and lay in a stupor until a few minutes before his death when he regained consciousness and though he was unable to speak he seemed to know those who were at his bedside and made several efforts to speak to them, but it was in vain. He could not speak.

Uncle Jim, as he was called, had lived a true Christian life for the last forty years and rejoiced in the faith of a living God until the last. The Bible had always been his guide, his refuge in times of trouble and sorrow and his comfort in his last days. Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, ectema, salt-rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands electric bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif. "I have ever found they make rich red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them 3c at A. M. Hughes."

Language and Composition were discussed very interestingly by Professor E. M. Kennison, Messrs. T. S. Spradlin and Lindsay Baker.

Miss Bertha Prose talked upon Nature Study and its importance in the Rural Schools which was quite an interesting subject, and Mr. Coates finished the subject in a very instructive way, as he did all the subjects discussed.

Mr. O'Daniel gave a short, but very interesting address in regard to Educational interest through our county paper.

Mr. Coates talked very interestingly on Important Literature and the need of it in the hands of teachers also on the importance of Agriculture being taught in the Rural Schools.

One of the very interesting features of the work was an address given by Dr. W. A. Heizer, of Bowling Green, Ky., on Sanitation in the rural schools.

The subject of Reading being assigned to Mr. O'Daniel for discussion, he talked upon it in a manner that was certainly very beneficial, not so much in the way of discussing the subject itself, but the importance of its being taught and the teachers knowing how to teach it.

The discussion of the new Course of Study and the methods of Alternation, by Mr. Coates, in his very interesting and instructive way was one of the most important features of the work to the teachers as the grading of the rural schools is demanded, this year before any payments are made.

Mr. O'Daniel appointed Mr. Mc Clelland Sammons vice president and Mr. Don C. Belcher secretary of teachers' association to be held at Gallipolis which embraces Education Divisions No. 1-5 and part of 2.

Mr. Lindsay Baker vice president and Mr. William M. Gambill secretary of association to be held at Blaine, which embraces Ed. Div. 4-3 and parts of 2 and 7, and Mr. J. H. Ekers, vice president and Mr. J. H. Ekers, vice president of Mr. Lige Rice secretary of association to be held at Fallsburg, which embraces Ed. Div. 5-6 and part of 7.

Among the interesting features of the entire session was the many visitors who favored the institute with very interesting addresses and music. Some of the addresses were given by the Rev. Mr. J. M. Beam, of Prestonsburg, the Rev. Roscoe Murray, of Louisa, and Messrs. George W. Castle and J. H. Thompson. The music was furnished by Misses Marcus and Mrs. Nasb.

Professor Ireland and the Rev. Mr. Reid and Mrs. Reid at the piano.

Professor Ireland sang solos at different times and each was quite entertaining.

He also gave an address on "Literature."

Mrs. Guy Atkinson, Miss Edith Marcus, the Rev. Roscoe Murray, Messrs. R. T. Burns, Geo. W. Castle and J. H. Thompson, having attended and shown much interest were unanimously elected honorary members of the institute.

The institute was especially pleased with the interest of the ministers in their work. Those being present and conducting the devotional exercises at different times were the Revs. W. L. Reid, Frank Hardin, L. M. Clegg, Roscoe adopted course of study. Something of this kind is absolutely necessary if you want to properly grade your school and if the "report books" are properly kept, it will be a great incentive to regularity in attendance and good deportment. I have sent the company the name and address of all the active teachers in the county and you will doubtless receive a report book within a few days and I trust every teacher will secure them by the time they hold the first monthly examinations.

I will commence the work of organizing the new division boards next week. The trustees of each sub-district, will receive notices of the time and place of meeting and should allow nothing to keep them from attending.

A new chairman and secretary for each division will be elected at these meetings and other important matters considered. Any trustee failing to attend without a lawful excuse vacates his office and the board will then and there proceed to elect another trustee.

When elections were not held in districts that should have held them, the vacancy will be filled at these meetings. The old trustees will be notified to attend and candidates to fill the vacancy must be present so that successful candidate may be on hand to qualify and take part in the reorganization of the Boards.

All necessary Order Blanks will be distributed among the various trustees and other business matters attended to, that makes it very important that each district be represented. JAY O'DANIEL, Sup.

APPLES AND APPLE PIE.

While we lament the shortage in potatoes and the shrinkage in peaches we rejoice to learn that the apple crop is a success. The apple is a prince among fruits.

Take him up one side, down the other he is unsurpassed, but take him on your inside, ripe and raw, in jelly or in preserve he tastes good.

And then there is apple pie! How some of our Louisa cooks, colored and plain, do know how to make and bake them. But ask one of them how she does it and all you can get is "Well, I just take enough apples seasoned right, and have my crust just right and cook 'em 'till they are done." Then you know exactly how to make and bake a good apple pie!

UNION SERVICES.

On last Sunday the two Methodist churches held union services. The morning service was at the South Methodist Church, Rev. Reid preaching.

Guess Who.

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, salt-rheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail.

This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidnneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif. "I have ever found."

They make rich, red blood, strong

The young daughter of Barnie Reynolds has typhoid fever and is said to be quite sick. The little girl and her mother have recently returned from Indiana, where it is thought she contracted the disease. She is about six years of age.

A drought in Carter county lasted thirty days. Corn is dead, so is tobacco, except that growing in deep hollows and on hillsides. The acreage is not large, but there is not enough water to grow it, as much to claim the land and adjoining country was dry last year, while we estimate 75 per cent. fifty per cent. more in the same area.

The results of an examination of the new teachers certificates for Friday and Saturday, SUPT. JAY O'DANIEL.

County Superintendent of Schools Jay O'Daniel has demonstrated very conclusively that when he was chosen by the people of this county to be their superintendent of public schools they made no mistake. He has done a most excellent work for the education of the children of Lawrence county, particularly for the children Governor Goebel called "the great common people." Mr. O'Daniel brought to his responsible position a wide experience as an observant teacher. He had taught many years in the public schools, knew their deficiencies and their needs, and to cure the evils and supply their needs he has labored incessantly and successfully. In the administration of his office he has shown a high degree of executive ability, managing its affairs with a tact and judgment which have enabled him to bring schools of the county to a degree of excellence, such as they have rarely enjoyed before.

Superintendent O'Daniel is essentially a school man. This is the business of his life, and to perfect this business as far as possible he spares neither time nor expense visiting institutes, associations, conventions and all sorts of educational meetings. Here he learns all that is new and useful in his profession, and the schools under his supervision, the teacher and the pupils, get the benefit of the knowledge thus acquired. These few lines prove the truth of what we said: the people made no mistake when they made him Superintendent of Schools.

FARMERS' INSTITUTE.

Each recurring year since the first farmers' institute was held in Lawrence county the News has called attention to the date and place, giving as much publicity as possible to the coming. Each successive year it has recorded the repeated story of slim attendance and slimmer interest in the meeting. The time for another institute is near at hand. Next Friday and Saturday are the days for the meeting. Shall the News have to record the story of the almost or total failure of our farmers to give the proper attention to a matter which is of vital importance to them? Somehow we believe not. Somehow we believe that those who are getting their living by tilling Mother Earth in this section are going to come to town next week and discuss and hear discussed subjects in which they should have a lively interest. Come out men and women, and come out strong and take part in the institute. Take a two days rest from your labors—you have won it—and enjoy the plain practical talks and lessons which will be the leading features of the institute.

Institutes will also be held at the following times and places: June, Aug. 22-23; Paintsville, Aug. 25-26; Salversville, Aug. 29-30; West Liberty, Sept. 1-2; Pikeville, Aug. 18-19; Prestonsburg, Aug. 22-23; Hindman, Aug. 25-26.

BISHOP FITZGERALD DEAD.

The Rt. Rev. Oscar Penn Fitzgerald, a Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, died Saturday at Nest Eagle, Tenn., aged 82 years. In the early seventies he was State Superintendent of Public Instruction in California and later editor of the Pacific Methodist and Christian Spectator. He was born in North Carolina. He is survived by a widow and four children.

To those acquainted with the aged minister, no man was ever elevated to episcopacy by any church who more truly reflected the spirit of the Master. From his heart the milk of human kindness flowed in rare abundance, pure and entirely unadulterated. His love for mankind was unbounded and knew no denominational limitations. This was his characteristic and through the length and breadth of his acquaintance the keenest sorrow prevails as a result of his death. A number of years ago he had to desist from his active work as a prelate of the church, but he never lost his interest in affairs, or in his fellowmen.

He presided over the Southern Methodist Conference held here fifteen or sixteen years ago.

BOOTHE BUSINESS SCHOOL

BOOKKEEPING and SHORTHAND

With each of these subjects is included all the necessary material to make up a strictly first-class, thorough, and practical course.

Our text books are the easiest to master and at the same time the most practical, having been completed, are the most practical that can be had.

TEACHERS

Our teachers have made a specialty of all the branches and hold diplomas in all the subjects they teach.

They have practised both bookkeeping and shorthand, and for these reasons our pupils get a commercial training which no other school can offer.

We find positions for our pupils when they are ready, any time, but NOW is the BEST time. Tuition Monthly, Evening Sessions. Individual and Class Instruction. Business and Ornamental Writing by Mail. Send for Catalogue.
